DELIVERANCE TO THE CAPTIVES.

Luke iv, 16-30—Aug. 25.

"He came unto His own, and they that were His own received Him not."—John i, 11.

THE people of Nazareth would of course feel a certain sense of pride in their fellow-citizen whose fame was spreading throughout all Galilee and Judea.

They could scarcely believe what they had heard about Jesus. He never did such miracles in all the years that we know Him, said they. They did not, of course, understand that He had received His power as a special benediction when He was thirty years of age, as a result of His consecration of His life to the Divine service, symbolled by His immersion in Jordan.

At length He came to Nazareth. It was on a Sabbath day. For long years He had done the congregational reading of the Scriptures. This was therefore just what they expected Him to do on His return. He went into the synagogue and read the lesson for the day.

In the synagogue at Nazareth.

Thus far all went well; but when Jesus began to comment there were whisperings of disapproval, and finally an outburst of wrath against Him. Ah! they thought, this young man has lost His head.

They drove Him out of the synagogue with angry demonstrations. They led the way toward the brow of a hill, that they might push Him over. For a little way Jesus went, but then He turned and passed through their midst, overawing them by the dignity of His presence.

The Truth That Angered.

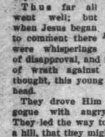
At first we read, "All bare Him witness, and wondered at the gracious words that proceeded out of His mouth." What made the change? It was the plain declaration that they did not believe in Him fully, therefore it would not be God's will that He should perform any miracles for them. He backed up His statement with illustrations from the past which angered them still more.

Instead of the people of Nazareth getting angry and resenting these things, they should have said, Tell us, then, of our faults and help us to overcome them. If God has blessings, surely we, as Israelites, may have our share if we will but come into the right attitude of heart.

The Lesson From Isaiah.

The lesson for that Sabbath was from Isaiah lxi, 1-3. It was an excellent text, and the sermon on it was from the ablest of teachers. How His hearers should have rejoiced to know that they were living in the day of the fulfilment of these words! Jesus had been anointed by the Father with the Holy Spirit, that He might declare good tidings to the poor. Surely many of them were poor and needy!

We read further that Jehovah sent Jesus to heal the broken-hearted. How those words would have appealed to all that were broken-hearted!



"They led him to the brow of the hill."

The declaration further was that the blind would receive their sight, that liberty would be granted to the captives, that the bruised and injured would be healed, and that "the acceptable year of the Lord" would be proclaimed.

"Deliverance to the Captives."

This part of the message might have been applied in part to themselves. Were they not captives, bound by the fetters of sin, the fetters and chains of heredity, sickness, imperfection and death? Were not they actually blind also, as respected the eyes of their understanding? Evidently the time had not arrived for them to receive the blessing of the anointing of their eyes of understanding. Were they not all bruised by the fall—mentally, morally and physically!

But the work that Jesus was doing was merely the proclamation of these things, with a few examples of healing, etc. The real time for Him to accomplish the deliverance of the captives, the liberating of the sin-bruised, and the giving of sight to the blind, belonged to the Messianic Kingdom time. What Jesus was doing was merely a foreshadowing of the great things to be accomplished future—in the Times of Restitution of all things which God hath spoken by all His Holy Prophets."—Acts iii, 19-21.

Proclaiming "the Acceptable Year."

This brief expression, so little understood, pointed out the special work of Jesus, far more important than the miracles. The term, "acceptable year," or acceptable time, refers to this Gospel Age of more than 1800 years.

No opportunity had been granted in the past to become dead with Jesus, to walk in His steps. The proclamation of this opportunity waxed until Jesus had made His own consecration, and all who accepted His Message and became His followers did so under this invitation or proclamation. It was the privilege of becoming the sons of God by a begetting of the Spirit.—John i, 13.

Vicious Mink Attacks Child.

On Thursday, July 18, Mrs. Ollie Ackridge, who lives on Mr. William Hill's farm Boston, heard her goslings making a noise as if in trouble. The goslings were in a branch about 75 yards from her house She sent her little son about 8 years old to see what was disturbing them. The little boy discovered that a mink was among them, and when he attempted to drive the mink away it ran at him, and he ran to the house the animal following him, snappingits teeth. His sister saw him running and the animal after him and opened the screen door to let the boy in, but the animal came on and jumped through a hole in the screen, biting and snapping at everyone. Mrs. Ackridge was barefooted at the time and her baby and another little child were sitting on the floor. Mr. Ackridge picked up the two children but not in time to keep the animal from biting one of them on the leg. It also bit Mrs. Ackridge on the foot. The little boy in the meantime was kept busy fighting the vicious animal which he finally killed with a churn dasher. Mr. Ackridge brought the dead mink to Dr. Henry Harned's office The Doctor thinking perhaps the animal had the rabies, took it to E. H. Arnold, our local health officer, and the same was sent to the State Board of Health Officers at Bowling Green for examination, who in turn sent the same to Washington, D. C. to the head of the medical department who reported the animal had a bad case of rabies and recommended that the persons bitten be sent at once to Bowling Green for treatment.

Mr. Ackridge took his wife and child to St. Mary's to the Cecil madstone. The stone stuck to the wound on the lady's foot for three hours and a half and the child one hour and 55 minutes. Mr. Ackridge has great faith in the madstone and has not determined whether or not he will send his family to Bowling Green for free treatment.—Bardstown Standard.

The Altitude of Meat.

Congressman William Kent, of California, himself a large cattle raiser, offers no hope of decrease in the high cost of meats He figures that it costs $20 more to produce a meat steer than it did 10 or 15 years ago, very largely owing to increased cost of feed. The once vast ranges have been taken up by individual farmers who raise the hay and corn that must be had to fatten steers. Whether Kent is wholly right or not, a lot of things indicate that the thrilling proposition for generations soon to come is going to be intensified product—the scientific raising of much on a limited acreage. Agriculture seems to move as a stream. It abandons vast territory in the East to take up, exhaust and leave the Middle West for the ranges and the Canadian northwest. Its methods and processes persisted in these regions would mean awful shortage of food supply. But following this stream of pioneers slowly but surely is coming the fellow educated to make three crops grow where one was reaped. It disappoints me before and side by side with him is coming the fellow who raises practically all that he consumes.

The disappearance of the great cattle ranges and ranches is not wholly a calamity by a good deal.—Cincinnati Post.

There Are Others

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington says: "One hundred and twenty million dollars was filched from the American people during the last fiscal year by swindlers who operated largely through the United States mails, according to a statement just made public in a formal report to Postmaster General Hitchcock. This is an increase of $50,000,000 in the aggregate of the previous year. Of those who are alleged to have operated the fraudulent schemes 1,063 were arrested by postoffice inspectors. During the year which ended June 30 last, 452 persons were convicted and sentenced and 571 cases are awaiting final disposition. Postmaster General Hitchcock's order to inspectors to collect evidence that would warrant criminal prosecution of the swindlers gradually is building a wall of protection against such frauds around the American people."

This, however, is not a mark compared to the amount filched from the pockets of the people through the trust system and other highly protected republican party policies. If the federal authorities would only prosecute the influential men who conspire against the lives of the people, with half the zeal they employ the prosecution of the ordinary violators of the law the results would be immediately noticeable in the cost of living

School Teachers; Help your County Newspaper

Go to the office of your county newspaper, and hand its editor a while dollar—more, if he asks it—and ask him to send you the county paper for a year. Let us see what you will get in exchange: Accounts of all transfers of property in the county; improvements in roads, public buildings, and private property; stock-news and crop reports; marriages, births, deaths of all friends and relatives; leading facts regarding State, National, and world happenings; some funny stories to lighten the day's burdens; historical articles; pictures of prominent people; perhaps a good story or two in the course of a year. Where else can you get so much for one dollar?

The editor may swoon, but he will recover, if the teacher asks him for something to do to help make his paper a success Perhaps there is nothing you can do—but the editor will appreciate your offer of assistance. Perhaps he will hand you a bundle of paper, a few stamped envelopes, and ask you to send in the news from your neighborhood. If he wishes this, do it—and consider that you have your reward in knowing that you are fairly and wisely advertising your district. Perhaps you will be able to write a brief account of some happening, or tell some worth-while story, that the editor will be glad to have. If so, be glad to give it; but if he refuses such contributions, hold him blameless. He, not you, is the one who runs the business and must succeed or fail according to his ability to please the people—and he knows what they want and desire much more than can you. One thing is certain—he will not print ill tempered comment, or unimportant happenings, or silly nothings. If you help him at all give him material, that you will not be ashamed to sign your name to. But first of all give him your dollar. He can live without your personal assistance but he must have the financial support of his people if he serves them well

Besides, had you ever thought how much advertising he gives the school affairs of the county? Many columns from first to last, are devoted schools and school affairs—and many a complimentary notice is given a teacher who borrows his neighbors paper in order to enjoy the pleasureable write-up. Quit this borrowing. Buy your own country paper. You own educational papers. yours own books.—then you make them up, clip them, or otherwise use them for the best advantage.—Southern School Journal.

IS IT WILSON?

Curious Likeness of the Democratic Candidate Develops On Wall.

You have seen clouds banked up in such a way as to look like a man's face, leaves cut out by nature that were excellent likenesses of some one's profile; ink drop and distribute itself in a way to make a face, but have you ever spit in such a peculiar and unusual way as to dry out and leave a perfect likeness of a man who is prominent in the minds and thoughts of the people just now. That's what happened at Nelson's monument works the other day. Col. Kirby, who lives on the Cornishville pike, was in county court day and had a "chaw" of his favorite long green on tap. He couldn't wait until he got to the door to expectorate and casually and carefully let her go and it landed on the lower part of the wainscoting. When the porter was sweeping up he noticed it and called Mr. Nelson's attention to the picture which had developed from the dried spittle. The tobacco juice and the little particles of dust it caught suggests very plainly a crayon portrait of Gov. Wilson—so says Mr. Nelson and others who have seen it. It is being carefully protected and preserved and some of our good democratic friends say it is sure "hunch" that Wilson will be an easy winner in the presidential race. When this becomes known it is expected that it will be a regular Mecca for the many ardent supporters of that great man.—Harrodsburg Leader.

Leading Agriculturist of Kentucky Dies At Experiment Station in Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 15.—Prof. M. A. Scovell, director of the Kentucky Experiment Station, dean of the College of Agriculture of Kentucky State University and member of the State Board of Agriculture, died at his home on the experiment station grounds at 11:30 o'clock tonight after an illness of about two weeks from rheumatism of the heart.

Dr. Scovell had been for twenty-seven years at the head of the Kentucky Experiment Station, of which he was the first and only director, was one of the leading and most widely-known agricultural chemists and livestock experts of America and through his official position and identification with the State Fair and other public enterprises had become one of the most influential and popular citizens of Kentucky.

On account of Dr. Scovell's marked executive ability, his knowledge of agricultural science and personal popularity, the Kentucky experiment station became a model for many other States and his influence and prestige extended throughout the United States. Owing to his expert knowledge of Jersey cattle, in which department of livestock he was a recognized authority. James B. Haggin, of New York, authorized him to make several trips to Europe to buy without regard to cost the cattle for Mr. Haggin's great Elmendorf stock farm, this city. Dr. Scovell was much interested in the agricultural development of Kentucky and was one of the chief promoters of the agricultural train tours of the State, last spring. He had a peculiarly genial and magnetic personality and was one of the most universally known and popular residents of this city, and was for several years a member of the Board of Park Commissioners.

Not Guilty of Bribing Juror Says Jury in Darrow Case.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., August 17.—Clarence S. Darrow, the noted Chicago lawyer, was found not guilty today of the charge of bribing a juror in the McNamara case The jury was out just thirty-four minutes.

Although warned against any demonstration by the bailiffs, there was a spontaneous outburst of applause when Foreman M. R. Williams, in response to the court's query, stated that the jury had found a verdict of not guilty.

There was a rush to the side of Darrow, which was stopped by the bailiffs, but it was renewed a few moments later, after Judge Hutton thanked and discharged the jury.

Darrow must stand trial on a second indictment, according to an announcement made by District Attorney Fredericks immediately after the acquittal. Darrow apparently was unconcerned over the statement of the prosecutor.

Darrow approached the jurors still in the box to thank them, and two of them, Jurors Golding and Dunbar, threw their arms about him and patted his back. Other jurors reached forward and clasped him in with the attorney.

The scene gradually resolved itself into a reception for Darrow and the jurors and friends of the erstwhile defendant crowded up to congratulate and shake hands with the jurors, while the flashlights of newspaper photographers boomed from every angle of the court room.

Challenge

Mr. Robert Spurgeon will formally accept the challenge of Mr. William Voris, published in the Herald a couple of weeks ago, for match games of checkers and marbles played by Washington county experts against any experts elsewhere. Mr. Spurgeon is getting his teams ready and the try-out between the checker and marble players of Washington and Mercer will take place in Harrodsburg. The date will be named later. On his checker team Manager Spurgeon has secured such splendid players as Messrs. A. B. Rue, Brent Smock and Robert Black; but he has not been so successful in securing his marble players. He is going to issue a call for the best ones in the county and hopes to get many responses from experts From the applicants he will choose carefully as he don't want his team beaten. The match game will be in Harrodsburg and if an admission is charged it will only be for the purpose of buying prizes for the winners.—Harrodsburg Herald

Child Has Narrow Escape.

Maymie, the little three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R Johnston, had a narrow escape from serious injury Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The child, with one of her companions, was riding in a carriage with her grandfather, Ben P. Doom, and when he r the Vaughn Hotel on Main street, the horse which has been hired from the Harry Brawne livery stable, turned suddenly into the stable, pitching the little girl out on the ground. Mr. Doom made a frantic effort to catch her but was unable to do so and she fell between the wheels of the vehicle. The horse backed the front wheel of the carriage over the little girl's arms just above the hands, but before the animal 's feet came in contact with the prostrate child, Will Caskey, who was standing on the pavement a short distance away, ran to her assistance and grabbed her oy. At her home it was found that she had not been seriously hurt, although her escape from injury was an extremely narrow one.—Lebanon Enterprise.

A Loaded Pistol.

Young Thomas Christerson, seventeen years old, who has been living with his father on the Russell Cecil farm, on the Shawnee Run Run pike, was accidentally shot Sunday night by a pistol in the hands of his cousin Grover Christerson. The bullet entered his groin, making a terrible wound, and he died before medical assistance could be obtained. It seems that the boys were preparing to take a load of household goods to near Junction City and Thomas had an old pistol and laid it on the dresser. Grover picked it up and was fooling with it when it went off and inflicted the fatal wound Coroner Shackelford empanelled a jury Monday and a verdict of accidental death was rendered. The remains were taken to Junction City for burial.—Harrodsburg Leader.

How To Kill Your Town

Buy from peddlers as and much as often as possible.

Denounce your merchants because they make a profit on their goods.

Glory in the downfall of a man who had done much to build up your town.

Make your town cut a bad place and stab it every chance you get.

Refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the material interests of your people.

Tell your merchants that you get goods a great deal cheaper in some other town and charge him with extortion. If a stranger comes to your town tell him everything is overdone and predict a general crash in the near future.

If you are a farmer curse the place where you trade as the meanest on earth. Talk this over with your neighbors and tell them the men are robbers and thieves. It will make your property much less valuable, but you don't care.

Are you guilty?—Ex.

Great Circus to Show at Lebanon.

Ringling Brothers' Circus and newly added $500,000 spectacle of "Joan of Arc," will exhibit in Lebanon, Ky., Thursday Sept 5th. The spectacle in itself is an attraction that should bring thousands of visitors from the surrounding country. It is beyond question the greatest production of its kind ever seen in America.

The world's most skillful scenic artists, costumers, propertymakers, chorous directors and stage managers were engaged to mount the production. A stage bigger than a hundred ordinary threatres was built and made portable so that it can be conveyed from town to town and erected each morning in the main tent. Thus the circus proprietors have made it possible for those who live in contributory towns as well as in the large cities, to see this magnificent wording play with its cast of 1, 200 characters, a ballet of 300 dancing girls, a grand opera chorus of 400 voices, 600 horses and a train load of special scenery, costumes, properties and mechanical devices for producing such stage effects as thunder, lightning, storms, fires, and the sound of battle.

In the old market place of Rouen, France, there now stands a monument by which the French of today have sought to redeem their part in the execution of Joan of Arc, who on May 30, 1431 was burned to death on the false charge of heresy after having delivered her country from the English and having restored the crown of Charles VII. History records but the meager facts of this strange heroine of eighteen years, who led the armies of France victorious through English invasion, and then, deserted by all, even the indolent monarch whom she preserved, died by the cruelest torture known with the name of the Master upon her lips. Unsung in poetry the name of this simple peasant girl has come down through the ages to be revered as that of a saint, and whose wonderful powers and whose bravery are verily believed to have been of divine inspiration.

On the triumphant incidents, the victorious engagements, the final defeat of the English armies and the coronation of Charles VII. all achieved by the frail Maid of Orleans, has been founded the inspiring spectacle which gives Ringling Brothers' circus a new sigoificance and makes an attraction such as the world in searching for amusement has never before found.

The regular circus program is more than ever attractive. Its company of 875 foreign artists, its double menageries and its new street parade will prove a great surprise to those who attend from this city. The event is one that should not be missed.

Crop Report

The monthly crop reports of the Agriculture Department issued Friday, shows the condition of corn to be 84½ per cent of an average crop and oats 92 half percent, while potatoes are reported to be 96 half per cent. The estimated yield per acre of wheat is 10.2 bushels. Of corn 12 5 bushels, and but little barley is grown in Kentucky it shows an average yield of about 22·2 ouabel to the acre. Last month the reports were 91 per cent of dark tobacco transplanted on June 1, and the present condition of same is reported as doing about 90 per cent; while the the Burley section transplanted only 51 per cent of it crop its condition is about 86 per cent. The average of the fruit crop is summoned up as follows:

Apples, 75 per cent; peaches 70 percent.; pears, 80 per cent; plums, 80 half percent., and grapes, 91 per cent pasture conditions throughout the state are reported as most excellent as a result of the heavy rainfall. In many of the counties the continued rainfall has retarded the cultivation of the crop corn and tobacco especially suffering thereby. Thereby taken as a whole, the reported for July shows that crop conditions are brighter than the indications were on June 1. From every section reports are that the pasture conditions are usually fine.

The Fair will hold its annual meeting next week Of all the events that come and go in the passing of the years the Fair takes precedence over all, as a genuine source of pleasure. It has in it both amusement and education, so true is this that a county which does not afford a Fair is not numbered among the progressive counties of the day. The State Fair is a truly great event in each year, and has in it much more than is possible for the limited County Fair, but if we could have but one, we would unhesitatingly say give us the County Fair, because the County Fairs are local in their nature, and the people of the county take a pleasure in them that is not possible for them to take in a State Fair, and besides the County Fair reaches so many people who can not afford to attend a State Fair.

In our educational movements we must not lose sight of the importance of the County Fair, it is an education in itself.

A dispatch from Lexington to the Cincinnati Enquirer says, "Big stakes are being played for in Kentucky by the Progressives or the Roosevelt backers. It is a fight for the party organization. Under the State primary law passed at the last session of the Legislature but two parties can participate in the primary the party polling the largest number of votes and the party polling the next largest number. The plan of the Progressive is to poll a larger number of votes than the regular Republicans, and in that way gain control of the party machinery in the State. If the plans of the Roosevelt leaders materialize, there will be such a rattling of Republican dry bones in Kentucky that aforesaid bones will never again get together. Meanwhile, Democrats can sit back and fan themselves while the Republicans are doing the work that will result in a Democratic majority so large that the ballot boxes can't hold it.

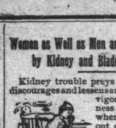
Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.



Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. The proposed law does not strike at the legitimate manufacturers of patent medicines, but at the one who manufactures the cure all which is in fact no cure at all.

A certain tract of land situated in Washington county, Ky., about 4½ East of Springfield and known as the ARCHIE MAYES FARM

The farm referred to in above mentioned order, contains 229 acres, 3 R. and 38 Poles, and lies in the rich Pleasant Run section of Washington County, than which there is no better land for corn tobacco and general farming in Kentucky. On this farm is a large and beautifully proportioned residence in good repair and standing on a particular well chosen site, a large and well built tobacco barn and all other outbuildings necessary.

This farm is probably better equipped with respect to turnpikes than any other place in the county, being bounded on the north, or front, by Springfield and Perryville pike, on the east by Lebanon and Pleasant Run Shortline pike, on west by Barbour's Mill and Lebanon pike,

The fertility of its soil, the quality of its improvements and the convenience of its location make this farm certainly one of the most desirable, both as a home and as a business proposition in this part of the state.

The sale of this property will carry with it seeding privileges for fall of 1912, and full possession on January 1, 1913.

This land will be offered in two or more parcels, as may seem to suit purchasers best, and then as a whole, the bid or bids realizing the most money to be accepted.

To the purchaser price the purchasers with approved security or securities, must execute bond bearing interest from date of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a Judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

SPIRITISM SAID TO BE DEMONISM.

A most interesting little brochure has recently come of the press setting forth with Bible proofs that the communications received by soul through Spiritist Mediumship is of demon origin. The writer treats this subject through the Scriptures from the time when certain of the holy angels became disobedient. He proves from the Scriptures that these fallen spirits personate the human dead, with whose past history, good, though imperfect, are thoroughly acquainted. He shows that they also frequently personate the Creator and the Redeemer, commanding that described, once to pray, do penance, etc. This, however, is merely to lead them on and to bring them more thoroughly under demoniacal control. Sometimes by heating down the natural barrier of the human will, they possess their victim, and rule him more or less to his ruin, frequently by sending such to the insane asylum, Numerous illustrations, Scriptural and otherwise, are given. The price of the little book is fifteen cents; It should be in the hands of all interested in Spiritism or whose friends interested thereby. Address five two-cent stamps to the Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

HE SIGNED THE REGISTER

But the Buxom Widow's New Husband Wrote Just What She Had Taught Him.

A buxom and winsome widow decided to continue her late husband's business (wholesale meat purveyor), and appointed his confidential and reliable man, one John Jinx, as her manager. John, though an astute and clever business man, could neither read nor write. The widow partly cured him of the latter defect by teaching him to write: "Settled, John Jinx," when giving a receipt for accounts paid to him.

The business improved and prospered, as likewise did the amatory feelings between the widow and John, the latter gratifying in a proposal and acceptance of marriage. After the usual preliminaries the ceremony took place, followed by an adjournment to the vestry to complete the legal formalities.

The necessary particulars were duly entered in the marriage register, and happy John was the first asked to sign. John, somewhat blushing, took pen in hand, and clearly and unmistakably wrote as his signature in the register: "Settled, John Jinx."

Synthetic Diamonds.

There recently appeared in Paris some diamonds having all the earmarks of the genuine article, and they were offered to a number of dealers at very attractive prices. Certain rigid tests were applied by experts engaged in the trade, with the result that they were proven to be slightly different from natural stones. The diamonds are believed to be manufactured by a synthetic process, but by experts who examined them they were claimed to be genuine. From this it seems the secret of making diamonds is really being solved, and it will not be long until this new product of the electric furnace will take its place with synthetic rubies, sapphires and other manufactured gems which are now sold in the open market.—Exchange.

Quite a large number of persons from here attended the Meeting of the Federation of Catholic Societies in Louisville last Sunday. A very large crowd attended from various parts of the United States. The great parade in the afternoon was witnessed by 125,000 people. It took the parade two hours and one half to pass a given point. The Apostolic Delegate was in attendance and celebrated the Pontifical Mass at the Cathedral at 10:30 A. M.

Judge B L. Litsey has received from R C. If any one has anything that looks good in the way of cattle bring it to the Fair next week. Let us start something in the cattle line. We have the County and we have the grass. It is as easy to have good cattle as scrub ones. We have some good cattle but we want more. We want to see Washington County placed in the front rank. We want to see the big cattle men visit us as they did some few years ago. Show the old cow at the Fair this year, and let us get up some competition. And perhaps next year we will have something better. Washington County is naturally a stock raising county and we want to see her take the place to which she is entitled in that line.

Squire Hendrens Court

Saturday was a great day in Squire Hendrens Court. There was one of the greatest crowds seen in Willisburg for a long time Prof. J. McWilliams was on trial for having whipped a pupil in his school. Messrs. W. C. McChord and John A. Polin appeared for the prosecution, and Hon. W. F. Neikirk for the Defendant. There was a considerable amount of testimony introduced on the trial, and it consumed the entire day. The jury found the Defendant Guilty and fixed the penalty at a fine of $50.00. The case will be appealed.

Overseer for St. Catharines

The Literary Society of St. Catharines, have employed Mr. Marion Cecil as Overseer for their farm for the coming year. In securing the services of Mr. Cecil, the Sisters of St Catharines have made a wise move as he is a man of good judgment and long experience in farming. He is a most excellent judge of stock of all kinds, and we predict that the farm of St. Catharines will be successfully conducted, during the time Mr Cecil is overseer. Mr. Corbett, who has been successfully managing the Farm for several years past, resigned because he has accepted a position, as Electrician and Engineer in managing the Electric Light plant at the Academy, St. Catharines now has all modern improvements and takes a place second to no female school in the State.

The Bardstown Fair

One of the classiest county fairs in Kentucky is that of Bardstown, which will be held this year the first week in September. This splendid old institution is historic both in name and fame. Its grounds are beautiful; its displays are always of the best and the hospitality of its people is unsurpassed.

From the report of its officers, this year bids fair to be the livest, brightest, and best of its history. If you want to have a real good time, go to the Bardstown Fair Sept. 4-5-6-7.

Aunt Bet Mason a highly respected colored woman died in Chicago a few days ago. The remains were brought here for interment.

GREAT SALE

Of Durocs at Mr. E. S. Mayes Last Monday.

One of the greatest hog sales ever held in the United States was that which was held at the sale pavilion of Mr. E. S. Mayes last Monday. This may seem a broad assertion at first thought but when it is considered that Mr. Mayes is the owner of Defender the world's greatest living boar, which has won first prizes at not only many state fairs but that he was the champion and grand champion at the International 1909—1910, and that many of the hogs sold were sired by this great boar, and many others bred to him, it stands proven beyond a doubt that the worlds greatest hog sale was in Springfield Monday.

The day was an ideal one and a large crowd were present, The large pavilion was filled to overflowing and the crowd included not only a large crowd of Washington county people but also buyers from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Tennessee Iowa, Georgia and many other states This is the first great sale Mr. Mayes has had since he purchased Defender and that he was a valuable addition to his herd, was testified to by the presence of a great many Duroc men who have not attended his former sales.

Seventeen sows bred to Defender and 2 boars and 2 sows sired by him averaged $126 per head. The highest priced sow sold for $235 and a boar sired by Defender sold for $225.

A number of spring pigs averaged $28. The average of the entire sale was $70.

Mr. Mayes is well prepared for holding sales having one of the best pavilions to be found anywhere Not only this but the general appearance of his farm forces the visitor to place him in the first class as a farmer and a stock man.

WILSON'S SPEECH HIGHLY PRAISED

Press and Public Men Join in Chorus of Approval.

DISCREET, ABLE, SAFE, SANE.

"Will Impress the Country Favorably," Declares William Jennings Bryan. "Admirable Pronouncement," Says Champ Clark.—"Appeals Strongly to Every Legitimate Business Interest," Declares John W. Kern.

An Admirable Speech.

Hon. William J. Bryan.—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is admirable. It is original in its treatment of the issues of the campaign. I am sure the address will impress the country favorably."

Appeals Strongly to Every Legitimate Business Interest.

John W. Kern, Senator From Indiana.—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is a masterpiece, setting forth with great clearness his conception of the work to be accomplished by the Democratic party under his leadership. It is in complete harmony with the progressive sentiment of the country, but also appeals strongly to every legitimate business interest."

Will Take High Rank.

Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives.—"Considered from a literary standpoint, Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance will take high rank in the political output of the year. It will make pleasant reading and therefore will prove a fetching campaign document. He discusses the issues of the day philosophically, clearly and forcibly. Its courteous tone will allay opposition and win him friends. It is an admirable pronouncement."

Battle Hymn of Democracy.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma.—"The closing sentence of his speech will become the battle hymn of Democracy in the pending campaign: 'I thank God and take courage.' It is at once a paean of praise and is a summons of patriotic duty."

Discreet, Able, Safe and Sane.

John R. Lamb, ex-Representative From Indiana.—"Speech is discreet, able, safe and sane. Governor Wilson believes in the efficacy of the scalpel rather than the big stick. His dissection of trust and tariff evils is unique and convincing. His suggestions of reform in methods of government and reduction of tariff schedules will meet with approval of legitimate business and the laboring masses as well."

Points the Way For Justice.

Hoke Smith, Senator From Georgia.—"I am delighted with Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance. It is a superb statement of the present purpose of the Democracy and points the way for justice to all through real progress in the construction of legislation. With his election assured, it should give confidence to honest business and new courage to those who need a square deal."

Lays His Soul Bare.

John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor of Boston.—"Governor Wilson's acceptance is characteristic of the man. He lays his soul bare to the people and asks them to join with him, irrespective of party, in righting present wrongs without undue clamor or injury to legitimate interests. He lays emphasis on constructive thinking, and I believe this epitomizes one of the nation's greatest needs at the present time. It will be President Wilson overwhelmingly in November."

Progressive, but Not Wild.

Thomas Mott Osborne, Auburn, N. Y. —"Governor Wilson's speech fits the occasion and the man—progressive, but not wild; sane, strong and unmistakably Democratic. It makes an inspiring opening of the campaign, indicating clearly and nobly the spirit in which the leaders of our regenerated Democratic party must work, not ope of mere 'partisan make believe,' but of honesty and justice toward all men."

Prophetic of Success.

Governor William H. Mann of Virginia.—"I think it was an admirable speech. It was wise, conservative, comprehensive, prophetic not only of Democratic success, but of Democratic supremacy for years to come."

Rings True in Every Sentence.

Governor Frederick W. Plaisted of Maine.—"It is a splendid presentation of the issues for the American people. It rings true in every sentence and in every word. It represents the spirit of the Democracy of today. It is the address of a statesman."

An Admirable Presentation.

Governor Eugene Foss, Massachusetts.—"It was an admirable presentation of the real issues upon which the campaign will be fought this fall. I think that it is bound to strengthen Governor Wilson among the thinking people of the country."

Will Ring Through the Country.

Governor George W. Donaghey, Arkansas.—"It was a great speech. It will ring through the country. It is just what he should have said. The people have never felt more confident of success since the first nomination of Grover Cleveland."

Iowa For Wilson.

Judge Martin J. Wade, Iowa.—"For the first time since the state was admitted to the Union Iowa will this year give its electoral vote to the Democratic nominee for president."

Jeffersonian to the Core.

John A. Dix, Governor of New York.—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is marked with broad vision and clear thought, expressed in language every American can understand. As a business man and manufacturer, I am especially pleased with his positive and statesmanlike position on the paramount issue of tariff reform and his demand for an immediate downward revision. In sincerity, precise statement and comprehensive grasp of great principles and their application of the fundamental needs of the country the speech is Jeffersonian to the core. It contains no appeal to passion and excites no prejudice. Governor Wilson has presented to his party and, to the nation clear conception of the truth that the real struggle in the pending campaign is between the concentrated powers of privilege and the aspiration of the American people to realize in their government and their economic industrial and social relations the full measures of the principles of freedom, justice and progress upon which the republic was founded. To all the issues and every national need Governor Wilson applies the rule of right and common advantage. The reforms he advocates are farreaching, but they are necessary, sound and practical. The speech will awaken and stir the national conscience and lead to a triumph that will restore to the people the control of their government and inaugurate a new and happier epoch in the life and development of the republic."

Worthy Leader of Progressive America.

Louis Dembitz Brandeis, Boston.—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is the utterance of a twentieth century statesman. With keen perception he recognizes the evils from which the people are suffering and the dangers which threaten our welfare. With broad vision he points the way by which these evils may be removed. Of the dangers ever to be feared in sustaining alike of business and of politics he has no fear. He trusts the people and that he is a Democrat in fact as well as in name, and his courage is undoubted. Progressive Americans have in him a worthy leader."

Equable and Moderate.

New York Sun.—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance has good luck as well as merit. It comes just in time to contrast sharply with the interminable bellowings of Th. Dentatus Africanus Ferox. And, if with not contempt of cumpus it may be said, though written by a college president very recently retired, it is in the English language, not anaemic and seldom with suspicion of priggishness or dormbiness, though it has an air, a certain academic aloofness of its own. What will please everybody who has a living to make is Governor Wilson's equable and moderate tone. Governor Wilson is for repair, not for destruction."

Partnership of the People.

New York Times.—"It is applicable. The dominant thought, the very soul of his discourse is the common interest of all the people, their partnership in our activities and our prosperity. The partnership idea comes from his mind not as a sublimated, political theory, but as a practical, immediate remedy."

Straight to the Heart.

New York World.—Woodrow Wilson's speech of acceptance is the ablest, clearest, sanest statement of high public purpose this country has known in a generation. Without passion, without invective, without abuse, without partisan bitterness, without denunciation, without egotism, without demagogy, he has driven straight to the heart of the supreme issue of American institutions, the partnership between government and privilege.

FARMERS SHOULD SUPPORT WILSON

Best Equipped Man For Presidency Since Lincoln.

SENATOR GARDNER'S VIEWS.

The Maine Statesman, Himself a Farmer, Declares That President Taft Would Continue to Tax Farmers of the United States and at the Same Time Compel Them to Compete With Canadian Farmers.

The reasons why those engaged in agricultural pursuits should support Governor Woodrow Wilson for president are strongly set forth by Senator Obadiah Gardner of Maine in an address to farmers.

Senator Gardner is a practical farmer, one who farms his own farm, and he is probably in closer touch and sympathy with country life and its requirements than any other man in public life.

For twenty-five years Senator Gardner has been actively interested in the national grange, and for ten years he was the master of the state grange of Maine. A few years ago he came within a close margin of being elected governor of the Pine Tree State.

A little less than a year ago, when Senator Frye, who had represented Maine in the senate for thirty years, died, Governor Plaisted honored Mr. Gardner and recognized the agricultural interests of the country by appointing him to the United States senate, where he has made a most creditable record, devoting particular attention to the welfare of the great rural population of the country. He is now a candidate for re-election and will undoubtedly be successful.

In his address Senator Gardner says:

To the Farmers of the United States. Greeting:

Being one of you and for the greater part of my life having been engaged in the practical everyday duties of my own farm, having been for twenty-five years past officially at work through hundreds of societies and the national and state granges, having served four years as master and officer of the national grange and as master of the Maine state grange, ten years during which time the order in Maine added 25,000 members and attained a power and influence never held before, I feel I am in a position to speak from the standpoint of one who knows the farmer and his needs, and it is solely because of that I am prompted to address you.

For years farmers have justly complained of being required to pull at the short end of unjustice because of unfair and unjust representation in legislation and taxpayers' boards, and at the present time the farmers are charged with being the cause of the high cost of living and, as a matter of fact, taken collectively, the amount received in their business, the hours devoted to it, labor and every thing connected with the details of agricultural life rank as a whole the poorest paid class of people in this country. (Applause.) The most important

During the recent campaign we have been told what a great blessing has been thrust upon us called protection to tariff, and let's find a market for their principal crops. It has had to compete in the market of the world where the price is fixed not suddenly it is discovered that the farmer is the sole cause for the high cost of living, and what happens? The president (Mr. Taft) with a total disregard for the interests of the farmers, submits a plan to open up to competition a few of the farm products of the United States, the products of Canada while being careful to preserve the tariff on more correctly speaking, the tax on all the farmer has to sell which is clearly an anything can express the hypocrisy and "humbuggery" of the claim that the tariff is any benefit to agricultural as compared with manufactured products.

Now, the farmers of this country have an opportunity to benefit themselves that has never appeared within my recollection, as the Democratic party has been compelled by the force of public opinion to nominate a man for the presidency who is the best equipped for that high office of any that has been nominated or elected since Lincoln—a man that is free of from a personal acquaintance with and a knowledge of the fitness, a man of great natural ability, splendidly educated, not theoretically but practically, a keenness of intellect unequalled for its grasp of every question with which he is confronted; an indomitable courage to do right, and, above all, a great, broad tenderness and sympathy for all classes of life will make one of the most accessible presidents ever in the White House and Lincoln excepted, none will be refused a hearing more willing to receive in full at his hands. He is truly a man of the people and every person in the United States could know him as I know him. And supplementing all these qualities in the position he is about to fill is a power of intellect.

None can read the splendid Mrs. Wilson and her three refined, cultured daughters with their perfect home training and not feel that the whole family of Woodrow Wilson was especially prepared to fill a great need in properly establishing the history of our country, as were Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln. And I would advise the farmers upon my reputation as a man, if you want to protect your own interests and those of your families, if you want to render the greatest possible good to your posterity and to future generations, if you want to contribute your part to the end that popular government under God shall not perish from the earth, then see that the Hon. Woodrow Wilson is elected president.

Butter and Cheese.

Good butter has no strong odor. It is of an even, golden yellow and has a fine grain; if slick it has not been properly handled. It should never be marbled in appearance. If there is too great proportion of moisture present the butter breaks easily. In this case the purchaser pays for the water. Cheese should be of good color, depending on the variety, and of fine grain. The cheese with large air cells is usually not of the best quality; if the fat separates from the body of the cheese rapidly it usually indicates the addition of foreign fat.

REVISE TARIFF UNHESITATINGLY DOWNWARD.

There should be an immediate revision of the tariff, and it should be downward, unhesitating and readily downward.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

A WOMAN'S GOOD LOOKS

Depend on her general health and freedom from pain. Many a woman looks old before her time because she suffers from some form of female weakness. Starting from early womanhood, she suffers from frequently recurring derangements that upset her womanly health. If she be beautiful she grows into that mellow age without wrinkles and crowfeet about the eyes or the blue circles underneath. It is invariably the rule that such women suffer little, or not at all, from womanly derangements which sap the health and leave in the face the tell-tale story of pain and suffering. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the famous specialist in the diseases of women, found a prescription in his early practice that soothed the organism peculiar to womanhood—oiled the machinery, as it were, of the human system—and helped the woman to pass those painful periods that scar blood and age her face. This remedy became the well-known Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that has benefited thousands of women and saved them from misery and suffering at different periods in life.

DR. PIERCE.

Mrs. HERMINE E. PIERCE, of 241 Bristol Street, Sarnia, Ont., writes: "I am now a well woman after using four bottles of your medicine and doctoring with several different doctors, each one saying it was something different, and the last one, after putting me through a thorough examination, said I was suffering from a growth, which, in time, would result in cancer, and said I would not live more than two years if not operated upon right away. I became honestly discouraged but would not consent to the operation as I was too weak and too much afraid, but at last, through the advice of a friend, I tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, and after using two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I immediately felt a change. I also used two boxes of 'Healing Suppositories' and eight boxes of 'Lesbon Tablets,' and can safely praise the name of Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who suffer from any female disease, for those medicines saved my life and restored to me health. I hope my letter may help others as they have helped me."

LABOR AND THE RULE OF RIGHT.

The working people of America—if they must be distinguished from the minority that constitutes the rest of it—are, of course, the backbone of the nation. No law that safeguards their life, that improves the physical and moral conditions under which they live, that makes their hours of labor rational and tolerable, that gives them freedom to act in their own interest and that protects them where they cannot protect themselves can properly be regarded as class legislation or as anything but as a measure taken in the interest of the whole people, whose partnership in right action we are trying to establish and make real and practical. It is in this spirit that we shall act if we are genuine spokesmen of the whole country.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

THE PEOPLE AND THE CURRENCY.

In dealing with the complicated and difficult question of the reform of our banking and currency laws it is plain that we ought to consult very many persons besides the bankers, not because we distrust the bankers, but because they do not necessarily comprehend the business of the country, notwithstanding they are indispensable servants of it and may do a vast deal to make it hard or easy. No more the bankers' plan will meet the requirements, no matter how honestly conceived, than a merchants' and farmers' plan as well, elastic in the hands of those who use it as an indispensable part of its daily business.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

WHAT REPUBLICAN PROSPERITY IS.

What has the result been? Prosperity? Yes; if by prosperity you mean vast wealth, no matter how distributed or whether distributed at all or not; if you mean vast enterprises built up to be presently concentrated under the control of comparatively small bodies of men, who can determine almost at pleasure whether there shall be competition or not. The nation as a nation has grown immensely rich. She is justly proud of her industries and of the genius of her men of affairs. They can master anything they set their minds to, and we have been greatly stimulated under their leadership and command. Their laurels are many and very green. We must accord them the great honors that are their due, and we must preserve what they have built up for us. But what of the other side of the picture? It is not easy for us to live as it used to be. Our money will not buy as much. High wages, even when we can get them, yield us no great comfort. We used to be free-and-off with less, because a dollar could buy so much more. The majority of us have been disturbed to find ourselves growing poorer, even though our earnings were slowly increasing. Prices climb faster than we can push our earnings up.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

"Wilson and Marshall" looks good, sounds good. Is good.

WAS SAVED BY THE DOCTORS

Victim of Robbers Recovered Because the Physicians Didn't Probe for the Bullets.

The expert medical witness had just descended from the stand when a recess was announced in the criminal court and he paused for a few moments to chat with Judge Ralph S. Latshaw, who dearly delights in twitting the medicos.

"Whenever I see a doctor on the stand," related the judge, "I am forcibly reminded of an experience when I was an assistant prosecuting attorney many years ago.

"A storekeeper on East Ninth street was shot by robbers when he refused to open his cash drawer. Four bullets found him as their mark and when officers arrived on the scene he was lying on the floor, dead to all outward appearances. Doctors, who had hurried to the store, took a look at him, shook their heads and went away. Not one of them offered to probe for the bullets.

"And do you know," smiled the judge to the doctor, "that was what saved him. The storekeeper recovered and is in business to this very day. He still carries the bullets, one of them in his head. Now what would have happened to him, doctor, if they had probed for the bullets?"

But by this time the expert was gone.—Kansas City Journal.

Austrian Explorers of Imperial Museum Make Rich Haul in Karst Mountains.

Vienna.—As exploration by members of the Imperial museum into the cavern of St. Kanzian in the Karst mountains has yielded more than 1,000 bronze implements such as swords, axes, lance heads and vessels supposed to date from 1000 B. WILSON STANDS ON HIS RECORD

Josephus Daniels Invites Close Study of Writings.

SLANDER WON'T WIN NOW.

Chairman of Democratic Publicity Bureau Points Out Errors of Campaigns of Previous Years and Finds a Good Moral—Roosevelt Also Wrote Books and Made Bitter Attacks on Various Men and Classes.

New York.—Josephus Daniels, chairman of the publicity committee of the Democratic national committee, said today:

"Eight years ago during the presidential campaign of 1904 I came to New York, and, being a member of the Democratic national committee, I dropped in at the headquarters of the committee. I found the literary bureau of the committee very actively engaged in perusing the volumes of Theodore Roosevelt. When I saw on every desk 'The Winning of the West,' 'The Life of Thomas H. Benton' and a half dozen others of the works of the then Republican nominee for president I wondered whether or not I had got into the right place.

"I was immediately set aright, however, when I was informed that the literary young men were engaged in culling from those books some of the many denunciations and bitter criticisms and attacks made by Theodore Roosevelt upon public men and measures and his aspersions upon great representative bodies of our people, such as workingmen and farmers.

"I found them preparing to send forth broadcast all over the land such excerpts from the writing of Theodore Roosevelt as:

"'Cowboys are much better fellows and pleasanter companions than small farmers or agricultural laborers, nor are the mechanics and workmen of a great city to be mentioned in the same breath.'

"Mr. Bryan and his adherents have appealed to the basest set in the land—the farmers.'

"They (workingmen who object to government by injunction) are not in sympathy with men of good minds and sound civic morality.'

Hits Quakers Too.

"They quoted from what he said about the Quakers, that those who would not fight were traitors to their country.

"They said that when the farmers and workmen and the Quakers came to know what Theodore Roosevelt had written about them they would rise up with wrath and indignation and bury Tim Call generally beneath all available forms. They said that Roosevelt would obtain one of that exposure of these, we said, of course, he never did. I answered that it was the proper thing to do to herald these utterances through the country.

"As to whether or not that sort of campaigning had any effect the result of the campaign eight years ago speaks for itself.

"The Republican party is attempting to do today the same sort of thing that the Democrats tried in 1908. The Democrats cut-Rodenberged Mr. Rodenberg. They were eight years ahead of him in this sort of thing. It didn't work with us then, and it will not work with them now.

Stands on His Record.

"The attempt to attack Governor Wilson by means of certain statements which he made in writing history and in commenting upon events of history as they appeared to him as historian will fall signally. As one great metropolitan newspaper pointed out, Mr. Rodenberg and his kind are simply 'Blowing against the wind.' Governor Wilson is running for president on his record as a public man, and with that record the public is fairly well conversant, and it will continue to learn more as the campaign progresses.

"He is running for president on his record as governor of New Jersey—what he said and did in that capacity rather than what he wrote as a historian, chronicling events and commenting upon them as they appeared to an impartial observer whose duty it is to write of things as they are rather than as they should be or as he would have them.

"Our Republican brethren are entitled to all the thunder they can make out of Governor Wilson's writings. I hope they will read them carefully and thoroughly. They will be able to gain a great deal of valuable information, and when the contest is read along with the arguments which have been taken from his works for the purpose of placing him in a false light I have no fear as to the results. All I have needed is a thorough understanding.

"Ingersoll sought to disprove Bible truths and to assail Holy Writ by the same methods which the Republicans are seeking to assail Governor Wilson."

The average business man has awakened to the fact that it is a good investment to give some of his time to political affairs. This is one of Democracy's best signs of victory.

Perhaps the Republicans, as represented by Taft, are satisfied with the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. But the majority of the voters are not.

Conditions in Japan.

That the old customs of Japan are passing away and the empire is rapidly becoming civilized and, more slowly, Christianized, is not borne out by the fact, for the dark side of Japan is turned aside by those who visit there. A writer in the Missionary Intelligencer of Cincinnati, from a resident in Fukushima, says: "Idolatry still prevails. The tenacity with which they cling to the family gods in some homes would be unbelievable to those that idolatrous customs have a strong hold on them.
